

Ion cleansing foot bath is an electrolytic system for body detoxification.

Toxin overloading: Ion cleansing is an effective way to neutralize toxins that accumulate in the body including: organs, glands, lymph, arteries, nerves, muscles, connective tissue, and joints. By creating an environment that eliminates allergic and immune system dysfunctions, the body is balanced and healthy. The ion purification system neutralizes the toxins and impurities of the human body by generating a large amount of negative ions, and discharges them from the body through the pores of both feet in a rapid infiltration manner.

Negative Ion Electrolysis to Fight Against Human Dampness!

IS YOUR BODY ACIDIC, TOXIC AND PARASITIC?

During spring time, humid air filled our living environment. The influence of dampness in the human body must not be ignored.

Living in Hong Kong, located in this sub-tropical region of southern China, people are prone to rheumatism or arthritis due to the humid climate.

Itchiness caused by eczema is very troublesome and unbearable. Palliative treatments can cure the symptoms but not the root cause of the disease. This indeed makes people feel helpless and depressed.

Accumulation of dampness and acidic substances in the body causes the stomach to be in an irritated state constantly; the bowel movements are sluggish, the complexion is dark gray, the breath is unpleasant, the gastrointestinal tract is watery, the blood and qi are weak, the limbs are cold, the body is tired and low, lack of enthusiasm, etc.

The Swiss Body Detox[®] electrolysis footbath effectively removes accumulated dampness from the body. A 30-minute foot bath for 10 sessions will eliminate long-term dampness accumulated in human body. The cardiovascular system, lymphatic system, and digestive system (intestine) can purify contaminated cell membranes and promote the dehumidification of internal organs such as liver, gallbladder, pancreas, spleen, stomach and bladder.

You will be completely refreshed after the treatment of ten foot baths. You will be light-footed and full of vitality! Therefore, please give yourself this rare opportunity to get rid of the accumulated dampness in your body.
